BIG PIPELINES PREPARED FOR NATURAL GAS

Committee Informed Fuel Will Be "Turned On" Within The Next Day or Two

AWAIT STEELMAN REPLY

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—A congressional committee was told today that natural gas to afford a measure of relief from the coal shortage probably will start flowing through the Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines within 48 hours. Gardiner Symond, of Houston, Texas, president of the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company, told the house surplus property investigating committee his men are already at work on the properties and the gas will be "turned on soon, possibly in a day or two."

The committee questioned Symonds while awaiting a response to an invitation to Reconversion Director John R. Steelman to answer Harold L. Ickes, who testified Steelman is an "obliging" friend of John L. Lewis.

When the gas begins to flow depends largely on weather conditions in southern Louisiana where pipe connections are being made, Symonds said.

The war-built lines run from the Texas and Louisiana gas fields to the New York area.

Deliveries will be made first, Symonds testified, to the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

However, he added that he expects that use of the gas in Ohio, parts of Tennessee and Kentucky will ease fuel demands to the eastward.

Chairman Slaughter (D-Mo.) of the house committee investigating surplus property telephoned the invitation to Steelman at the White House, but got no immediate acceptance.

"I should think he would want to appear in view of Ickes' testimony," Slaughter commented to reporters.

Ickes, self-styled "old curmudgeon," hit Steelman yesterday in the process of assailing miners union chief Lewis as "our own domestic Hitler." He declared the government might have headed off the strike by better handling of the Big-Inch and Little-Inch war-built pipelines.

Conviction Leaves Lewis Solemn

John L. Lewis, UMW president, stares vacantly as his attorneys make pronouncement of sentence. His attorneys said they would appeal the conviction.

Mizak Case Expected To Get To Jury Today or Thursday

Attendance at the trial of Andrew Mizak, charged with the slaying of John Kalinski at the Kalinski home in Columbus township last August 23rd, was small this morning, little interest being shown in the case.

Sheriff L. E. Linder was the first witness called this morning, taking the stand at the opening of court and occupying it until about 11:10, when District Attorney M. A. Kornreich announced "The commonwealth rests."

Linder's testimony covered the time and incidents from the time he was called to the Kalinski home until he returned to Warren. He described the home and the conditions there and also went into detail relative to the statements that were made to him by Mizak. The statement was admitted into the records of the case. The gun with which the shooting was done was also identified and it was admitted in evidence.

Resignation Of Wyatt Ends Bitter Feuds

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt's reported decision to quit signalled the end today of some bitter feuds within the administration, but left unsettled many questions of the housing program's future.

Friends said Wyatt decided to step out rather than accept a compromise in his demands for fuller authority to push the program along the lines he declares are necessary. His resignation has not been announced officially, but an official close touch with the White House said it probably would be by tomorrow.

The housing chief conferred with President Truman yesterday afternoon for the second time (Turn to Page Eleven)

CONDITION OF MIKE JACOBS IS IMPROVED

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Promoter Mike Jacobs, who collapsed from a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday, showed "a slight improvement" during the night although his condition still is critical.

The 66-year old boxing boss spent a restless night at St. Clare's hospital, his office announced at 9 a. m.

Jacobs collapsed late yesterday enroute to visit a chiropractor two blocks from Madison Square Garden where the promoter stages his indoor fistic shows.

Stoppages Place Burden On Public Assistance Department

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—The state bureau of unemployment compensation estimated today there will be 80,000 persons idled by the end of the week in Pennsylvania by the soft coal shut down and freight embargoes imposed because of it, an increase of 30,000 from the current week.

The bureau said it was unable to determine exactly how many workers will be directly affected by the embargo but "we anticipated that in making our forecast of unemployment."

At the same time the bureau predicted that if the mine shut-down continues for another three weeks an additional 170,000 workers will be idled; if it continues for six weeks more the number will mount to 430,000 and for 12 weeks, 870,000 including 100,000 soft coal miners.

Robert P. Wray, secretary of public assistance in another development, reported the commonwealth "will meet needs" as they arise in connection with the soft coal strike.

Wray said those indirectly made out of work by the mine shut down will be the heaviest burden on the state public assistance fund, adding "when a person is ap-

RAIL EMBARGO IS HARD BLOW TO INDUSTRIES

Widespread Factory Shutdowns and Consequent Unemployment Appears In Prospect

PARCEL POST LIMITED

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—A government order holding railroad freight to the most vital needs struck a staggering new blow today to industries struggling to maintain operations despite the coal strike.

Widespread factory shutdowns, with consequent unemployment for thousands now working, appeared in prospect.

Officials explained that the order and a companion restriction on parcel post are designed to assure that coal-burning locomotives can be kept running on reduced schedules until mid-February.

They did not predict a coal strike lasting that long but said the fuel-saving measures are precautionary in event no more coal is mined before then.

The measures, coming in swift succession late yesterday, hit both home and factory. They:

1. Clamped an embargo on all rail freight and express shipments, with the exception of commodities and supplies necessary to the maintenance of public health and safety, effective 12:01 a. m., Friday.
2. Ordered a second 25 per cent cut in rail passenger mileage, effective 11:59 p. m., Sunday.
3. Limited the weight of parcel post to five pounds in packages measuring not more than 18 inches in length and 60 inches in length and girth combined, effective 12:01 a. m., Friday.
4. Subjected all export shipments except bulk grain, livestock and exports for the armed services to shipment under special permit, effective last midnight.

Officials of the Office of Defense Transportation estimated the embargo action would reduce freight and express shipments 50 per cent.

Concession On Veto Made By Molotov

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 4.—(P)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in a conciliatory move, agreed today to accept United States arms reductions proposals as a basis for discussion and declared that the big power veto would not apply to any system of controls and inspections in connection with arms limitations.

His statement was hailed immediately by British Delegate Sir Hartley Shawcross as an "important concession." Australian Delegate Paul Hasluck said the new Soviet stand opened the way for immediate United Nations action.

Molotov told the 54-nation committee of the U. N. assembly that Russia was ready to withdraw her own proposals in favor of the American plan, but that Russia would press for certain amendments.

Molotov's position thus seemed to be that the veto should apply during the setting up of the inspection and control machinery by the Security Council, but that once the machinery was ready to operate the veto would not apply. This is in conformity with the American position that the Security Council should be independent after it is created.

It was understood the atomic energy commission had been called to meet for what was said to be an important session of its future course in view of assembly consideration of general arms limitation, including prohibition of the atomic bomb.

Mississippi Negro Voters Are Beaten

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 4.—(P)—Senate investigators sought official versions today of violence which negroes said last July's Mississippi Democratic primary in which Senator Theo G. Bilbo was renounced.

The July 2 election was the first provisional government last week, announced if Thorez failed to get such a majority, it would forward its own candidate on the next ballot—either BIDault or former Finance Minister Robert Schuman.

Two negroes told yesterday of being beaten in Gulfport on election day and today's schedule including calling Gulfport officials to testify and display their records.

Bilbo, who has listened attentively to the committee witnesses, will be given a chance, probably Thursday, to present his side of the case, committee members said.

Cop With Rubber Hose Excites Court Room

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—A gun-chewing city cop casually swinging a rubber hose intrigued court room spectators today at John L. Lewis' contempt trial.

Even the balliffs worried about him for a while.

On questioning him, they found out the cop was waiting to testify in another courtroom: Had just dropped in to gawk.

The rubber hose? It was to be evidence in the cop's own case.

"Somebody got hit in the head with it," he explained.

Huge Walkout Is Expanding In California

BULLETIN

Oakland, Calif., Dec. 4.—(P)—In the face of a general strike that tied up the city, the Oakland city council today declared a state of emergency and placed full police and fire power in the hands of the mayor.

An aroused mayor, declaring "the city of Oakland is not going back to the jungle," demanded drastic emergency powers today to cope with an expanding mass "protest" walkout in organized labor which has kept a metropolitan area of 1,000,000 people tied up since 8 a. m. (EST) yesterday.

Even as Mayor Herbert L. Beach summoned the city council to act because "no community can exist in anarchy," the word was passed among AFL unions for an even greater show of strength.

The huge walkout, protesting a police-protected delivery of merchandise through picket lines to two struck department stores, had:

- Stopped all public transportation.
- Halted commuter service across the eighteen-mile-long San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge and thus jam-packed it with privately owned automobiles carrying more than 70,000 persons.
- Closed up a huge segment of East Bay industries.
- Pulled AFL sailors off merchant ships.
- Forced suspension of newspapers including one which hadn't missed an edition since 1874.
- Filled the streets with parading demonstrators, at times resulting in fistfights and manhandlings in which at least nine persons, including three newspaper representatives, were slightly injured.

Spokesmen of the AFL and the city appealed by radio and press statement for public support.

AFL demonstrators, massing to the exits in the Oakland auditorium last night, cheered speakers who bitterly denounced the police department and insisted the walkout would continue indefinitely until demands against the two struck department stores were met.

Report Shows Cost Of Living Soaring

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—Pennsylvania's cost of living jumped 8.9 per cent from June 15 to mid-September, the department of labor and industry reported today.

An 18.3 per cent increase in the price of food for the quarter and 23.6 per cent for the year ending September 15, showed the sharpest increase, the department said, "due to the increase of most food items other than fresh fruits and vegetables."

The department's cost of living report indicated a higher price for food, clothing, fuel, rent, refrigeration, house furnishings and miscellaneous items boosted the index to 104.5 per cent of the June 1914 figure.

The only exception was rents which showed a .3 per cent decrease, chiefly attributable to a 2.5 per cent decline in rents in the Scranton area.

URGES PRESIDENT TO LIFT ALL CONTROLS

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—(P)—President Truman is urged by Rep. Herbert J. McGinches (D-Pa.) to lift remaining price controls—including rent ceilings—immediately.

McGinches, who is seeking reelection by Hugh D. Scott on federal price and housing policies, declared the program of Wilson Wyatt, federal housing expediter, is "hurting veterans instead of helping them."

NO RELAXATION

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—The Civilian Production Administration report recommended adoption of a request of three utility companies in the Pennsylvania anthracite region for relaxation of brownout restrictions.

JUDGE ORDERS RECESS UNTIL THREE P. M. AFTER TWO-HOUR ROUND OF CONFERENCES BETWEEN FEDERAL AND UMW ATTORNEYS

Idle May Hit 2,000,000 By This Weekend

Pittsburgh, Dec. 4.—(P)—Effects of the two-week-old coal stoppage cut deeper into the life of the nation today as a fuel saving embargo on railroad freight shipments heralded unemployment totals that may reach depression-year levels.

In the midst of one of the most prosperous periods in the nation's history, more than 165,000 persons—in addition to 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers—were idle and by Friday the number may be over 2,000,000.

Simultaneously with the freight embargo set for 12:01 Friday, the country's automobile industry will come to a virtual halt.

Ford Motor Co. predicted a complete shutdown within a few days after the embargo becomes effective, throwing 85,000 persons out of work.

General Motors, speaking bluntly, declared, "we can't operate if we can't ship the materials and the finished products." General Motors employs 200,000.

A prediction was made by the secretary of commerce and industry association in New York City that the railroad embargo would bring "almost complete paralysis and isolation" to industries in the nation's largest city, idling a "high percentage" of New York's 2,500,000 workers.

In the midst, the Chicago Association of Commerce declared the embargo would result in gradual closing of "more than 10,000 industrial plants," in the Chicago area.

Housing, one of the most pressing post-war problems, is dealt a severe setback by the embargo.

The West Coast Lumbermen's Association said the Pacific and the west's 1,300 sawmills that produce 125,000,000 board feet of desperately-needed lumber a week, will begin closing down at once because they have no storage space.

The Pennsylvania bureau of unemployment compensation ruled that the state's 100,000 idle coal miners are ineligible for jobless pay benefits.

A new order slashing passenger mileage on coal burning trains at other 25 percent presaged new layoffs in the railroad industry where 25,000 are already idle.

Governors of two states took special action in the coal crisis.

Drastic Cutbacks In Economy Predicted

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Further gradual shutdowns were scheduled in the steel industry this week, with drastic cutbacks next week if no signs of a coal strike settlement appear. The Iron Age, national metalworking paper, said today.

The publication said operations this week were set at 61 percent of rated capacity, off 3 points from last week, but noted this was equal on an annual basis to 63-69,000 tons, or more steel than was produced prior to the war in any year except 1939.

Because it comes at a time when demand is heavy, the Iron Age said, "the coal strike is dealing a nasty blow to the metalworking industry" and "the loss of more than a million tons of steel will find many fabricators with unbalanced inventories."

The freight embargo, it said, would practically halt shipments from finishing mills.

NO COMMUNITY TREE

Altoona, Dec. 4.—(P)—The Christmas tree which usually graces the lawn at historic old Logan House will be missing this year, unless the coal strike ends soon.

Mayor H. G. Brumbaugh said no special concession will be asked of the dimout enforcement officials to permit the tree to be lighted.

Three-Way Fight Looms Over Selection For Site For U. N. Trucker Guilty Of Slaying Daughter

Lake Hudson, N.Y., Dec. 1.—(P)—A three-way fight between back-

San Francisco and Philadelphia had "equal merit" as to top choices. Of the two sites, the report had this to say:

Philadelphia the site consists of two areas, the Belmont area and the Rockborough area, which comprise some of the most desirable land in the Philadelphia region. They are exceptionally free from objectionable geographical conditions and from the geologic standpoint could be developed at no extraordinary cost."

San Francisco—the Presidio, a S. military reservation, "is an impressive site, with splendid views of the ocean, mountains and bay and overlooking the city. Excellent building sites are available on the two dominant heights and the many moderate slopes of the area. x x x There would be no displacement of civilian population."

Goldsborough Believed To Have Heard Recommendations of Both Sides As To What Penalties, If Any, Should Be Imposed

NO LEGAL CEILING ON FINE OR A JAIL TERM

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—The sentencing of John L. Lewis for contempt in the coal strike was delayed until at least 2 p. m., EST, today by a court recess.

A recess was ordered at noon until the afternoon hour after a two-hour round of private conferences among attorneys for both the government and Lewis.

One government lawyer, who was in court but did not participate in the conferences, suggested to reporters that an 11th hour effort to end the mine walkout might be in progress. He said he had no knowledge, however, that this was the case.

Reporters asked Joseph A. Padway, AFL general counsel, if he could explain the postponement.

"I cannot tell you anything," he said. "No comment."

Lewis likewise said "no comment," as he left the court room and entered an elevator.

The recess announcement came immediately after Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who yesterday held Lewis and the United Mine Workers in contempt, had entered the court after the two-hour delay.

Goldsborough mounted the bench and the bailiff announced that the court would stand adjourned until 3 o'clock.

Assistant Attorney General John F. Sonnett, in charge of the government's legal team, strode rapidly from the court room and left the building.

He was escorted for and aft by deputy marshalls calling, "one side, please."

Sonnett answered none of the questions shouted at him.

"No comment," he said grimly.

Lewis had alternately paced the floor of an ante-room and conferred with his lawyers during the behind-the-scenes maneuvering.

Tight lipped, the mine union boss-arrived at 9:52 a. m. for sentencing on his refusal to obey a federal district court order designed to avert the soft coal strike.

On entering the courtroom Lewis immediately took the same chair he has occupied throughout the trial, which began a week ago today.

The sentencing was delayed temporarily while Judge Goldsborough conferred with the trial attorneys in his chambers.

The judge was believed to be hearing the recommendations of both sides—government and AFL-United Mine Workers—as to what penalties if any, should be imposed on Lewis and his union.

Lewis himself sat silent and grum in the courtroom as the minutes ticked away.

Apparently growing impatient at the length of the conference, Lewis left the court room and paced the floor in an ante room formerly occupied by the prospective jurors who were never called to try his case.

He appeared tense.

The conference in Judge Goldsborough's chamber lasted about a half hour. Then Welly K. Hopkins, chief defense counsel, and his colleagues left and went into a private huddle in another room.

Assistant Attorney General John F. Sonnett remained in the judge's chambers for the time being.

Lewis continued to pace the floor in the adjoining ante-room.

The defense lawyers declined to answer reporters' questions as to whether they had made their recommendation for a penalty for Lewis.

At 11:22 the Lewis attorneys re-joined Judge Goldsborough in his chambers. Sonnett had remained with the jurist while the defense lawyers were conferring with their embattled client.

Lewis remained behind in a room which was equipped with a telephone.

The room in which Lewis and his attorneys met, and where Lewis stayed while his legal representatives consulted further with Goldsborough, was marked out by a "Visiting Judge."

Lewis and two of his younger attorneys remained behind the closed door of this office.

There was no legal ceiling on the fine or jail term which could be imposed on the mine union leader for failing to call off the economy-paralyzing coal strike, now two weeks old.

His union itself, the AFL-United Mine Workers, faced the possibility of a crushing financial penalty if the court's order not to "terminate" a contract with the government covering wages and hours in the seized bituminous mines.

It was entirely within Goldsborough's discretion as to what punishment should be levied. But he asked the government for its recommendation and also asked Lewis' lawyers to make suggestions.

Even before pronouncement of sentence, counsel for the union leader had mapped plans for a quick appeal from Goldsborough's decision that Lewis is guilty of "willfully, wrongfully and deliberately" disobeying the court's stop strike order of Nov. 18.

The task of filling the jury box, including two extra jurors, was completed Tuesday morning before court recessed at 12:20, and the Commonwealth opened its case when court opened at 2 o'clock.

District Attorney Kornreich addressed the jury briefly, outlining (Turn to Page Eleven)

Pickets Acquitted Of Riot Charges

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—(P)—CIO pickets were freed today of charges of riot and unlawful assembly in the police-picket battles at a strike-bound General Electric Company plant last February.

A jury of eight women and four men acquitted 14 members of the CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union late yesterday of the charges which grew out of an injunction banning mass picketing at the plant.

Louis M. McCabe and Saul C. Waldbaum, defense counsel, hailed the verdict as a "vindication of the rights of workers while the defendants withstood a barrage of congratulations from scores of spectators who included national CIO leaders.

Mounted police, swinging nightsticks, broke up the parading union members near the plant in a free-for-all following imposition of the injunction last winter.

NO COMMUNITY TREE

Altoona, Dec. 4.—(P)—The Christmas tree which usually graces the lawn at historic old Logan House will be missing this year, unless the coal strike ends soon.

Mayor H. G. Brumbaugh said no special concession will be asked of the dimout enforcement officials to permit the tree to be lighted.

Three-Way Fight Looms Over Selection For Site For U. N. Trucker Guilty Of Slaying Daughter

Huntingdon, Dec. 4.—(P)—Judge Chester D. Fetterhoff, of Huntingdon county court, ruled last night that James Forest Plank, 36-year-old truck driver, was guilty of murder in the first degree in the death of his two-year-old daughter, and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

The jurist handed down his verdict after hearing testimony from several witnesses as to the circumstances of finding the body of little Barbara Ann Plank, with a woman's black glove stuffed down her throat.

Plank pleaded guilty to the murder charge when he was arraigned for trial. District Attorney I. Newton Taylor said the man had signed a statement admitting strangling the baby to stop her from crying for her mother.

M. Satterlund Opening Store To Sell Stoves

Miner Satterlund, of Russell, is opening a store in that town in which he will feature gas ranges, heating stoves and bottled gas. He has made contacts with one of the largest distributors of ranges, heating and other stoves and also with one of the largest bottled gas firms in the business. He will be able to care for a large amount of territory where natural gas is not available.

Mr. Satterlund for 20 years represented one of the largest stove makers of the country and is thus well prepared to advise installations of various type of equipment. He will also handle a complete line of restaurant and cafe-teria equipment such as ranges, french fryers, etc. He is also organizing a service organization to service any type range or heating appliance.

Hayes T. Englet, division game supervisor this morning said that he estimated that 50% of the hunters in the nine counties over which he has supervision have left the woods. He reports that the kill has been heavy over his district and that the bucks have been above the average.

TOO MANY DEER KILLS FOR LISTING

Following a policy adopted some years ago, when deer kills in Warren county grew to such great proportions, the Times-Mirror regrets it is unable to publish the daily list of hunters' successes. Such news is being limited to kills with some unusual or out of the ordinary interest.

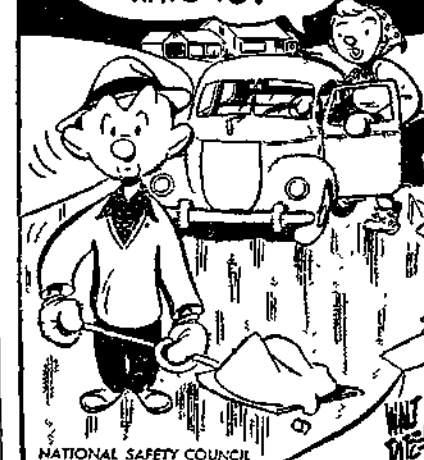

who came into the deer country over the week and have left for home. While some others have come into take their places it is now expected that not until Friday night will there be such an influx of hunters as there was at the opening of the season.

Due to the fact that most men, hunters have not had so much time to hunt as in some other years. However two Saturdays yet remain for the hunters and it is confidently expected that on both there will be many hunters in the woods.

In this section there have been few reports of hunters being injured in the game lands and in this county to date there have been no accidents. James Connor,

School Evaluation Report Is Subject of Rotary Address

At the meeting of the Rotary Club last Monday, Floyd W. Bathurst, principal of Warren High School, gave a report on the evaluation of the local high school conducted by the Middle States Association of Accredited Colleges and Secondary Schools.

A survey was made last April when a committee of seventeen investigators spent three days here checking up on about 1500 items with reference to the curriculum, faculty, library, administration, buildings and equipment, student guidance, activities, etc. The results of this survey checked against other schools. In most phases the Warren High School is above average, but Mr. Bathurst just as frankly discussed the few points where the local school fell short. This is the real purpose of the survey and the Association follows it up by seeing that the weak points are remedied. Mr. Bathurst told of improvements already made and contemplated. He then answered questions asked by members of the Club.

Mr. Rossman, superintendent of schools, made a few additional comments and stated that the weakness in curriculum was a result of 1932 economy measures which cut out certain courses which have never been replaced, and that the building was fifty years old, and inadequate to carry on the full program deemed desirable by the Association. This cannot be corrected since a new building is out of the question.

Everything considered, Rotarians felt that Warren could well be proud of the local institution, for the above-average points were for more important than the few which were below-average.

The advent of deer season was evident in the number of vacant places, and the attendance committee is hoping that all absentees will make up their attendance.

OFF-THE-RECORD OPINIONS

Elliott Roosevelt's reply to the Newsweek magazine account of his alleged statements at a reception in Moscow raises an interesting question about the scope and sanctity of off-the-record utterances, and the legitimacy of news, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror.

The Newsweek article credited Mr. Roosevelt with some opinions which, to say the least, were arresting. The story has it that he charged the United States government, among other things, with doing nothing to advance the cause of peace; with being in the United Nations purely for selfish, imperialistic reasons; and with welching on its Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

Mr. Roosevelt says he was misquoted, though he declines to specify how. He also says that he had made it plain that his remarks were off the record.

"Off the record" is a safety signal that has its legitimate uses. It is employed when a speaker wishes to give the press some background information that might involve national security or expose honest but confidential matters to the light of publicity. It is useful to newspapermen in making predictions of events or actions which are still in a formative state, and whose premature publication in full detail might jeopardize the most fortunate outcome or solution.

There are other general and accepted variations of the same idea. But Mr. Roosevelt's case is the first that we recall in which a more-or-less public figure has felt constrained to keep off the record a conversation apparently confined to his personal opinions on topics of general discussion and interest.

The question, then, is whether a reporter is bound by an off-the-record preface of such opinions. He must decide whether there are reasons of ethics, taste or security to justify such a preface, or whether a speaker simply doesn't mind airing his views but doesn't want them widely circulated.

Specifically, a reporter who attended this reception for Mr. Roosevelt, or who received an account of it from a reliable witness, would have to decide whether the importance of Mr. Roosevelt's opinions justified him in ignoring the off-the-record admonition.

If Mr. Roosevelt's remarks about this country's role in the United Nations were quoted correctly, it would seem to us that they are legitimate news. Certainly they were a startling observation from a man whose father has been credited with the creation of the organization, and whose mother is an honored and industrious American delegate to the UN.

Mr. Roosevelt may be traveling unofficially. Yet his inherited position and his own considerable public activities cannot permit him to escape all responsibility for his publicly stated opinions.

It may be questioned whether Mr. Roosevelt's thoughts on world affairs are going to turn the tide of history. But it may also be doubted that this present incident involving him will advance the solution of the delicate and fateful problems confronting the American and Soviet governments today.

We feel that anyone in public life should be concerned with that solution. We also feel that Mr. Roosevelt should clear up this misunderstanding. If he was misquoted, let him say how and where. If, as alleged, he wishes to malign his government's policies and cast doubt on the sincerity of its aims, let him do so openly. As the citizen of a free country, he knows that he can express his honest opinions on the record, and without fear.

A number of motorists who evidently don't believe in signs, discovered last evening that parking on Third avenue and Liberty street, around the post office building, is restricted to five minutes. Their windshields were decorated with nice red tickets when they returned to their cars.

Outdoor lighting may be missing this Christmas season in Warren but it is evident that this fact has not darkened the prospects for a happy and merry Yuletide.

Among the successful "hunters" yesterday were court house officials who found themselves confronted with the task of locating quarters for a jury hearing the Mizak murder trial.

Turkeys who didn't strut their stuff on Thanksgiving can continue to strut their stuff—until Christmas.

Washington Daybook

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Come January, the Capital's social roster will get a shot in the arm with the coming to town of new glamor—a la Republican.

A top drawer social registerite from New York's exclusive Tuxedo Park district, expected to be a leader in the Washington whirl, is Mrs. George St. George. Her beauty and brains will be an added contribution to the congressional picture as well, as she has been elected representative from the 29th district.

She is a first cousin of the late President F. D. Roosevelt, through her mother, Mrs. Price Collier, a sister of the President's mother. She is a talented hostess as well as a keen politician.

Always active in political affairs, she has been successively vice chairman of her own Orange county committee, manager of the Republican campaign in 1942, county chairman in 1943 and a delegate to the 1944 Republican convention. Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland, O., first elected to Congress in 1940, is coming back again as Republican representative from her district.

She is a well-known and extremely popular figure around Washington. Her grandfather Oliver Henry Payne, was a former U. S. Senator. Her father, H. B. Payne, was a confidant of such distinguished political personages as former Presidents William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

She is a woman of considerable means and a rather swanky background... which makes her more than socially acceptable. She was educated at the exclusive Hathaway-Brown school in Cleveland and Miss Spence's School in New York City.

TWO beautiful Mrs. Lodges—the wife of Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Senator from Massachusetts; and the wife of Henry's brother, John Davis Lodge, Republican congressman taking the seat of Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut—are coming here too.

Both of the Lodge boys are tall and handsome and are the sons of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. The younger Henry Cabot Lodge resigned his seat in the Senate to volunteer for the Army. When they lived here before they occupied an attractive old house in Georgetown.

Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge is typically "Boston." Tall and aristocratic, she claims to prefer a quiet family life to a strictly social one, but she is hep to all the tricks. When she first arrived here she was called on by all Senators' wives and otherwise carried out the duties expected of a Washington hostess. She was a hit too. Her sister-in-law, the former Francesca Braggiotti, is a member of the talented Braggiotti family of New York. She herself was a well-known dancer before her marriage. Her brother Mario is a pianist, and her sister Gloria, now Mrs. Emlen Etting, is a great social success in Manhattan.

John Lodge was a successful film actor, and the Lodges lived abroad for several years while he lived in British, French and Italian films.

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—The other evening some really authentic culture was presented at the International Theater. It drew a crowd of well behaved stage zealots who put to shame the gilded characters who turned the premiere a few nights before of Noel Coward's "Present Laughter" into a silly shambles of nonsense.

The first opening was the initial program of the new American Repertory Theater, Inc., a firm whose initials read "ART," and whose ambitions are exactly that. The first drama was "Henry VIII" and the troupe plans to swing into a schedule which also includes Ibsen, Shaw, Sheridan, Barrie and a new American play the directors haven't yet decided upon.

THE International Theater is a little off Broadway's beaten path, or at least at the northernmost edge, for it is located at Columbus Circle, and is by way of getting a reputation for cultural cutups.

Last year Mike Todd, an unlikely candidate as a producer of Shakespeare, presented Maurice Evans in a fine production of "Hamlet." The ART's decision to follow Mike's lead into this somewhat removed show place proves that the management—as had Mike, has a deep confidence in the loyalty of the fans. It is a fact on Broadway that plays which prosper most are the ones located in the center of the bright lights. The Winter Garden, now dedicated to the movies, was once considered to be the proud possessor of the biggest "walk-by" business in town. This meant it could gather in on almost any evening enough casual theater goers to make a full house, even toward the end of a Broadway run.

If the fans will go to Columbus Circle, they'll find a fine troupe working there. It brought out a first night mob of serious stage admirers, not the least well known among them being that famous believer in things Shakespearean, Gene Tunney.

TO GET back to the Noel Coward premiere, George Jean Nathan aimed a rather stiff journalistic upercut at the latest Coward frippery.

"Present Laughter," according to Nathan, "firmly adheres to his established pattern, which consists of blowing soap bubbles through an upturned nose."

"This is quite a trick, no one will deny," adds the veteran aisle seat occupant, "particularly no one who is likely to mistake an upturned nose for an upturned mind and a studiously acquired attitude for a born superior air."

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

The gates at the Pennsylvania station crossing were crashed into again last night and the arm of one snapped off. The motorist who did the damage claimed that his car skidded and he was unable to prevent the accident.

One of the notable installations of machinery made at the plant of the DeLuxe Metal Furniture plant has just been completed in the shape of a new dripping process.

The new oil burning system for the heating of the Court House will be put in operation tomorrow and no trouble in heating the building during the winter is anticipated. The new storage tank, of 10,000 gallons capacity, has been filled and it is believed that it will furnish fuel for the entire winter.

Work of razing the Hepburn house, at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Market street, which is being removed to make room for a new service station, is under way. The structure is one of the landmarks of the vicinity.

The Warren Rotary club has received an invitation to attend an inter-city meeting of Rotary to be held at Hotel Holley in Bradford next Monday. George Barber, district governor, will be present along with clubs from all over this section.

Tomorrow evening members of the Liberty club and their lady friends will enjoy a dance and floor show which promises much in the way of unusual entertainment. Orrie Beebe's reorganized band will furnish the music while Clayton Hall will put on his "peppy" floor show.

Old folks, as well as young, will find an unusual treat in "This Mad Whirl," the 49th annual production of the Mask and Wig Club of the University of Pennsylvania, which will appear at the Library Theatre December 30th.

Boys' Chorus Shows Ability At Rehearsal

The YMCA Boys' Chorus last night showed its ability to learn music quickly at its first rehearsal in the "Y" auditorium. About 75 boys attended the rehearsal which was devoted to learning one simple song, seating each boy in his own voice section, and the election of chorus officers. The following boys were elected to lead the chorus business and social activities: President, David Clark; vice-president, Harrison Wood; secretary-treasurer, Dick Stone; Librarian, Dennis Benjamin.

At a meeting of the new officers after the rehearsal, it was decided that the age limit for membership in the chorus should be extended to 18 years. Thus, any member of the "Y" 18 years of age and under, any member of the Hi-Y club, and a member of a Gra-Y club is eligible to try for membership in any of the choruses.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the "Y" auditorium, and any boy who is eligible to try out is invited and urged to come out next Tuesday for an audition.

THE TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

(like other industries)

CAN'T MAKE BRICKS

WITHOUT STRAW

WHEN YOU HAVE the organization and the experience and the know-how to do a job—when you have the wish and the will—you have pretty much of everything.

But "pretty much" is not enough.

You still need the straw to make your bricks . . . and it's the straw that we're lacking.

It's the straw that other industries are lacking, too . . . and other industries, as you know, are also having trouble making bricks.

Shortages of cotton yarn, for example, mean that our suppliers can't provide as much switchboard cable, frame wire, textile-insulated cable, cords, and drop wire as we need. Shortages of brass mill products cut our quota of central office switchboards, relays, and other apparatus. Shortages of lead and steel and plastics and rayon and lumber mean shortages of the thousand-and-one tiny and big things that combine to make telephone service possible.

But don't get us wrong.

We're making bricks—thousands of them. And every new shipment of straw enables us to make thousands more.

We're impatient, that's all. We don't like to keep anyone waiting for telephone service. We feel out of character when we do.

So we're making every brick count . . . and we're using old bricks where we have to . . . and we don't know a single telephone employee who thinks for a single moment that we have reached our last straw . . .

and here are some straws

This winter and next spring, we'll make huge additions to our Pennsylvania plant. We'll provide enough new facilities to take a big bite out of our waiting lists and to make telephone service available for thousands who are waiting.

In the meantime, we're making headway faster than we thought possible in the face of continuing material shortages, a supply situation that can't yet keep up with our demands, and a new demand for telephone service that continues to smash all records, shatter all predictions, and upset all calculations.

In short, we're making real progress toward our goal of providing new telephone service for anyone who wants it, and the world's finest telephone service for everyone who uses it, anywhere in the territory we serve.

NEURITIS PAINS LIKE AN ELECTRIC SHOCK
TO A LOCAL WOMAN

Just recently a middle-aged woman of this vicinity told us that she had suffered 3 years of torture with neuritic pains. She said she felt like a sharp knife was being gouged into her muscles, and sometimes these pains would strike her like an electric shock. She said one could hardly stand it. Today this lady is again enjoying life, and she says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. Her pains are gone now. No more feeling like a knife gouged into her muscles. She is entirely free of her misery, thanks to this remarkable compound.

RHU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Elsie C. Larson Is November 23 Bride
Of R. W. Johnson

On Saturday, November 23, St. Paul's Lutheran church was the setting for the late fall wedding of Elsie C. Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson, Spring street, and Robert W. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Yankee Bush.

Rev. Nore G. Gustafson performed the double ring ceremony at three o'clock. Mrs. Emil Jacobson played a short organ recital preceding the ceremony.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Anna Mae Eagan, who wore a gray wool gabardine dress with black accessories and corsage of yellow rosebuds. The best man was the bridegroom's brother Harry A. Johnson, Jr., seaman second class, stationed at Little Creek, Va.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore an aqua gabardine street length dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Her mother wore black and the bridegroom's mother was in green with brown accessories, each having a corsage of white baby mums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jane Ustach, Locust street, for relatives. Out of town guests were from Kane, Jamestown, Sheffield, Colmar and Falconer.

The bride is a graduate of Warren High School and is employed at the New Process Company. The bridegroom received his honorable discharge from the army after four years of service with the 28th Division. They are at home on Yankee Bush.

The bride-elect was honored at showers given by Mrs. Jane Ustach, Mrs. S. G. Anderson, New Process girls, Mrs. Oscar Larson and Mrs. Harry Johnson. On Saturday evening, the newlyweds were honored with a house-warming by about 32 neighbors and friends.

Lander Home Is
Scene of Wedding

Lander, Dec. 4—A pretty home wedding was solemnized in the presence of the immediate families at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hitchcock, when their elder daughter, Rachel Catherine, became the bride of Myron W. Rogerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rogerson, of Jamestown, performed the ceremony.

Attendants were Betty Hitchcock, sister of the bride, who wore a blue wool frock, with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. A gold locket, gift of the bridegroom, completed her ensemble.

Following the ceremony, a lovely buffet luncheon was served to 22 guests, with Beatrice Wright, friend of the bride, pouring. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bridal figures and flanked by blue and white candles.

Mrs. Rogerson was graduated from Lander High School, Class of 1945.

The newlyweds have left on a trip to the southern part of the state and Washington, D. C., and, on their return, will reside at East Oak Hill, Jamestown.

PAK Weekend Activities Outstanding Affairs From Every Possible Viewpoint

PAK's activities of the past weekend, the Thanksgiving dinner-dance on Saturday evening and the religious drama, "The Lost Church", on Sunday evening at the Church of Tomorrow service, proved to be outstanding.

Dinner was served to 243 persons in Founders Hall of First Methodist church Saturday evening. PAK members and friends of Warren, a large group of the holiday, and a bus load of young people from Westfield, N. Y., the last named coming in their own bus, driven by their pastor, Rev. James A. Gaiser, of Westfield Methodist church.

Paul Harris, Jr., of Putney, Vt., speaker for the occasion, held his audience in rapt attention for nearly an hour on the subject "The Other Fellow". PAK's motto, Mr. Harris was not only entertaining but drove home the fact that as Christians it is necessary to consider the "other fellow" around the world and to really do something to help him in his dire poverty and need. His message was a stirring one and a real challenge, not only to PAK as a group but to every member as individuals.

After the invocation by Rev. Gaiser, and group singing led by Charles Cochener, the toastmaster, Bill Hill, Jr., presented Maxine Beebe, alumni member home from Indiana State Teachers College, who played "Reflections on the Water" in a style which pleased everyone. Mr. Hill then introduced a sextet of girls from Westfield, who sang "I'll Be Seeing You" and "Blue Skies", proving that young people of Warren are not the only ones who can really sing. Bob Huck, tenor, then sang "Always", accompanied by Richard Kerr.

The ministers of the churches sponsoring PAK were introduced and the mothers and dads, some 35 in number, who served the dinner, were paraded around the hall and given a big hand for their fine work. Dancing was then enjoyed at the YWCA until 11:15, to the music of Pat Norman's orchestra from Jamestown.

Congratulations are extended to Margy Hanna, chairman of the dinner-dance committee, and to Betty Wade, chairman of the musical committee, and to their co-workers, for their fine work. PAK's thanks is also extended to Times-Mirror, Delbert Lawie and the many others who helped to make the dinner-dance such a successful event.

On Sunday evening at seven o'clock, the religious play, "The Lost Church", was presented on the stage in Founders Hall of First Methodist for a large audience.

The drama was preceded by a worship service conducted by Connie Tranter and Ann Saylor. The story of the play was very well portrayed by the following cast: Charles Sires as The Man; Mary Wendelboe as The Mother; Joe Fuelhart as The Boy; Sally Nelson as The Daughter; Leslie Israel as The Church School Teach-

In Youngsville Play

Evelyn Anderson

Kenneth Johnson

The seniors of Youngsville High School will present their three-act musical comedy, "Cinderella Rose", in the school auditorium on Thursday and Friday evening of this week, with the following supporting the lead roles played by Evelyn Anderson and Kenneth Johnson, above: Joan Burleigh, Tom Inter, Valda Luvison, Bob Freeborough, Carl Rosendale, Delores Mariner, Lucille Young, Maurine Brown, Charles Sharp and Art Woodard.

"Young Adventure"

This year's junior class play, "Young Adventure", written by George Savage and John McRae and produced under the direction of Miss Kathryn B. Martin, will be given a matinee performance on Wednesday, December 11, at 3:30 p. m., and an evening performance on Thursday, December 12, at 8:15, in the high school auditorium. "Young Adventure", a hilarious three-act comedy, is concerned with the affairs of a typical teen-age group.

Carol Niver, playing the role of Myrna Cavanaugh, finds her first boy friend in Willie Templeton, senior class president, played by Larry Korb. Chet Cavanaugh, portrayed by Bill Erickson, is engaged with the coming school dance and is aided in these plans by Doris Duncan, Marie Black, Phyllis Richardson and Peggy Taylor, played by Bertha Gustafson, Barbara Carlson, Connie McNulty and Betty Jean Kolpien, respectively. Nancy Hesch as Mrs. Cavanaugh and Joe Templeton as Mr. Cavanaugh, play the ever-familiar parental roles of confidantes and financial backers of juvenile enterprises. Herb Patterson, acted by Fred Kieselbauer, is a roomer in the Cavanaugh home and has eyes only for Eloise Conroy, Myrna's most successful rival, enacted by Helen Walker. Lee Ellis as Wayne Duncan, college sophomore, further complicates the lives of these high school students. Tickets for both performances are on sale by members of the junior class, the box office to be open in the high school auditorium on Monday, December 9, at 3:00 p. m., to make reservations for the evening performance.

Virginia Schumann Becomes Bride On Thanksgiving Day

Virginia I. Schumann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schumann, Conewango avenue extension, became the bride of Earl Young, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young, 1117 Spring street, this city, on Thanksgiving day in the home of the bride's parents, the single ring ceremony having been performed by the Rev. William T. Lane. The rites were performed by candlelight at 2:30 p. m., with palms and fall flowers used attractively in home decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of satin brocade and silk chignon with lace trim and long, fitted sleeves. Her double veil depended from a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms and blue baby's breath was combined with white pompons for her lovely bouquet.

Her sister and matron of honor, Mrs. Phyllis Sudul, wore a gown of blue and pink organdy, with headpiece of pink owers to match her bouquet of pink pompons.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of black with a gardenia corsage.

A reception for 62 guests followed the ceremony, Mrs. Clifford Gordon and Mrs. Albert Schumann presiding at a table attractively set with white candles and flowers and a three-tier wedding cake topped with bridal figures in miniature. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Fitzgerald, Mrs. Peter Heimann, Merle Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison, Frank Schumann, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leary.

Four Events Under Consideration For Community Youth

Four dates on the calendar have been circled this month by the young people of the community, indicative of community parties at Beaty school. The party on Saturday night of this week and the big Christmas party on the 21st are being planned for freshmen through the early twenties.

There will be two holiday parties on December 23. In the afternoon, the Committee on Community Recreation will cooperate with the Community PTA Council in the annual Christmas party for boys and girls from the first to the sixth grades.

The second such community event of the season for young people in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades will be held in the evening of the 23rd, from 8:15 to 11:15 o'clock. This event will be planned by Beaty school committee heads and youth advisors from the older group.

JoAnn Phillips and Ellwood Beckwith are co-chairmen for this week's party, and will announce their committee heads in tomorrow's Times-Mirror. There will be the usual dancing in the gymnasium, refreshments, games, and refreshments. The doors will open at 8:15 and close at 11:1.

Young people are reminded that, unless announcement is made to the contrary, community parties will be held on the first and third Saturdays of every month. These dates have been posted on the community calendar until the last of June.

Evan Evans Coming To Be Soloist In "Messiah" Dec. 15

Hundreds of music lovers in Warren and vicinity will read with pleasure the announcement that Evan Evans, distinguished baritone of radio and stage, will return to Warren for his third appearance in less than two years.

This time Mr. Evans will be one of four featured soloists in the First Methodist augmented choir's presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah", on Sunday afternoon, December 15, at four o'clock in the sanctuary of First Methodist church.

Mr. Evans' first appearance in Warren was on Palm Sunday, 1945, as baritone in the presentation of "The Holy City". Some months later he returned to be presented in recital by the Warren Conservatory of Music before a capacity audience in the Woman's Club auditorium.

Other soloists previously announced for the musical presentation on the 15th are Alice Mack, contralto; Anne McNight, soprano, and Edward Byborg, tenor.

GIRL SCOUTS LOOK FOR SALES INCREASE

The camp committee for The Girl Scout organization feels from experience gained thus far in the sale of the mixed salted nuts, that the Christmas and New Year's sale will be much larger. Many repeat orders have already been placed, and the Girl Scouts and Brownies are determined to make a more complete visit to the homes in the borough and county. The county did a particularly fine job in selling them, but it is learned that the homes in the borough were not all contacted. These salted mixed nuts are a real treat, roasted fresh on order from Buffalo and delivered immediately. The nuts are shelled salted nuts of a particularly fine assortment of brazils, pecans, cashews, with no peanuts included. The committee asks that anyone desiring these fine nuts for Christmas or New Year's who are not contacted by the Girl Scouts, please call the office headquarters at 1895.

BPW MEMBERS WILL HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY
Members of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club will have their annual Christmas party next Tuesday evening at the YWCA activities building, following a six o'clock dinner. The informal program has been arranged by Violet Peterson and the following members of the December committee. Viola Lindmark, Ruth Karr, Mrs. S. D. Blackman, Mrs. Elsa Cameron and Mrs. Harry Drivas.

If members are unable to attend the Christmas party, they are asked to cancel their standing reservations by Friday evening with Miss Peterson, 128, or 1531-P.

MOTHERS CLUB

The Home Street School Mothers' Club held its regular meeting at the school building Monday evening, Mrs. George Carlson, vice president, in charge. Mrs. Bloom led the devotional period. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in February or March and it was voted to give $5 to the Brownie Troop. After a very interesting talk on "Religion in the Home", delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. G. Rapp, Mrs. Albaugh, Mrs. M. Rapp, Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Zock.

There will be no meeting in January, the next regular session to be on the first Monday in February.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY
All members and friends are invited to attend the meeting of the First Evangelical and United Brethren Women's Missionary Society, to be held in Folkman parlors of the church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. There will be the usual devotionals and lesson period, followed by a social time and refreshments served by Mrs. Cleo Adolphson, Mrs. Jennie Anderson and Mrs. Mary Hildum.

WCS MEETING PROGRAM
The evening group of the WCS of First Methodist church will meet in Dunham parlors at 7:45 p. m. Thursday. A Christmas program has been planned and a real treat is in store for those who attend. Mrs. William H. Wright, in her own charming manner, will give a reading on old Christmas carols, this to be interspersed with carols sung by Shirley Kauffman and Constance Tainter.

I. T. CLASS PLANS ITS CHRISTMAS PARTY
The I. T. Class of the Epworth Methodist church will hold its annual Christmas party in the form of a tureen supper at the church parlors on Tuesday evening, December 10, at six o'clock. Those desiring to attend are asked to bring tureen, rolls, table service and a ten-cent gift for the grab bag, also a small gift for one of the shut-in members.

LANDER STUDENTS TO HAVE EXERCISES
Lander, Dec. 4—The first eight grades of the Lander school will hold their Christmas exercises in the community house on Thursday evening, December 19, in conjunction with the PTA meeting. PTA members are advised to keep in mind the change from December 10 to 19th.

WCS MEETING
The afternoon group of the First Methodist WCS will hold the final meeting of this year at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the church. Mrs. L. J. Holmes will conclude the study book, and all are to come with the Christmas spirit and a small gift for the grab bag.

The U. S. Government asks for Voluntary CONSERVATION of GAS during the Coal Strike

Your Gas Company urges compliance and again repeats its recommendation that all heating installations be postponed until NEXT summer

The Civilian Production Administration has issued an order calling for the conservation of Gas by all users during the coal strike. Every user of Gas is urged to comply with the government order and use Gas sparingly.

The conditions surrounding the supply of Gas were explained to users in our advertisements published early in November. You were informed then that the demand for Gas might severely tax our immediate facilities during the coming winter. Potential users of Gas for home heating were advised to postpone any more installations until next Summer.

Quite Naturally your Gas Company deplures the situations and conditions which made it necessary for them to say to you "postpone heating installations until next summer," but the same general conditions which made it impossible for you to buy a 1946 or 1947 automobile make this recommendation necessary. This situation has been, and may continue to be, further aggravated by the coal strike, the effect of which may make supply conditions even worse than was foreseen in our previous advertisements.

Please try to understand our position, take our advice on home heating—if you contemplated it for the present season—and bear with us until next summer. For whatever purpose you may now be using Gas, you are urged to use it conservatively.

Wolverines Victorious in Basketball in Opening Game

Chuck Shick Paces Warren County Quint With Twelve Points; Bonini Hits the Top

The last of the Warren county basketball teams went into action last night on the Sheffield High school court and came out of the game in a commendable manner. The Wolverines came out on top with a 35-29 score after trailing at the half time. The Mount Jewett quint was held to a single point in the third period while the Wolverines picked up 10 counters.

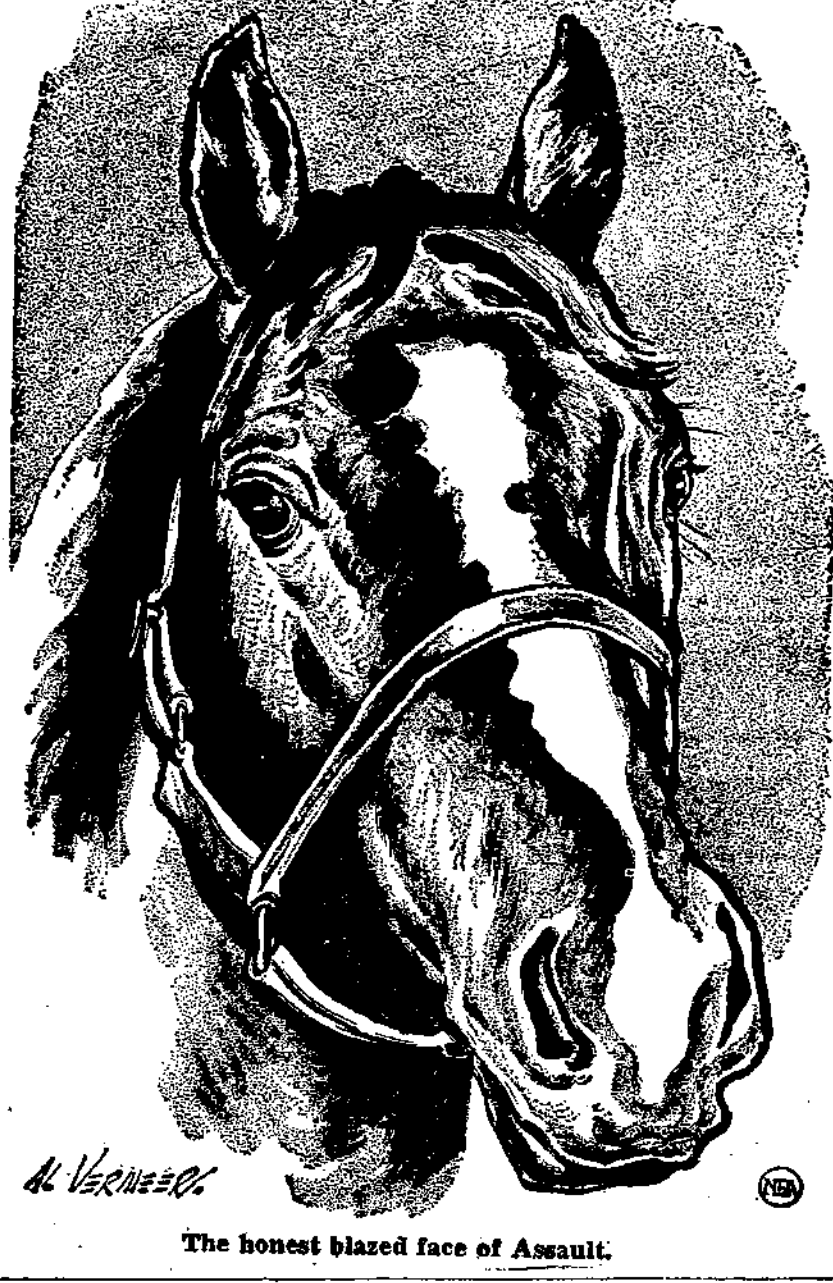

The tall Chuck Shick was able to score many points because of his monopoly of the back board. While "Fug" Hoden exhibited some nice long shooting and Hap Trubie and Gundy Steffan played some nice one-handed shots. Steve Eisenhauer was also a big asset for the Wolverines, with his on-the-ball playing giving his team possession of the ball many times. The lead shifted hands many times in the opening stages of the game, the Black and Gold of Mt. Jewett keeping pace with the Wolverines on four shots. They leaped ahead by a 11-10 score as the first quarter ended. Again the teams traded baskets in the second quarter but this time the Sheffielders came out with the edge and left the count at 18-15 at half time.

Mike Jacobs Collapses Near N. Y. Madison Square Garden

By SID FEDER
New York, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Michael Straus (Mike) Jacobs, the nation's foremost boxing promoter for the past decade, was gravely ill at St. Clare's Hospital today collapsing from a cerebral hemorrhage two blocks from Madison Square Garden.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, Jacobs' personal physician and a member of the State Athletic Commission's medical staff, expressed belief that if the 66-year-old promoter showed improvement within 36 hours of his collapse late yesterday "he'll

BRIDGE TO PARADISE

By Kathleen Rollins

Chapter 3
DAVID had lunch at Sam's Place, a quick-service tavern. He ate in silence, planning his work for the afternoon. The sale of the timber on his land was of first and great importance. With the money from this, he could lay foundations for a number of cottages at once. It was urgent that he see Blount of Blount and Company, and Alvin Sykes at the Sykes Lumber Mill.

He could not file away the worry occasioned by his name being placed on the ticket as one of three city commissioners to be elected in Headleyville. The idea that he should run against Ross Headley had been hatched in Mr. Crockett's lazy mind. He pointed out that David who apparently had no political axe to grind, could win in a crawl against Headley. "We'll need another good man to run against Thomas McKenzie," the old man had said, "and with Alvin Sykes already a friend to labor, the three of you could take Headley by the horns and swing it across the gulch with electric wires and sewer pipes trailing' you."

He was drinking his second cup of coffee, slowly and thoughtfully, when Alvin Sykes sat down at the counter beside him. He was a tall man, angular and thin, with large deep-set gray eyes and a pleasant mouth. He said, "Hello, Graham."

David turned quickly, and said, "I was on my way over to your place. I'm selling that timber for Mr. Crockett. You'll have first chance at it."

"I've been expecting something like that," Sykes told him. "Since we voted to include Frogstown in the city limits a year ago, the old man has been hard up to pay taxes. I'm ready to figure with you as soon as I have lunch." He ordered a sandwich and milk.

"Good. By the way, have you dug up a man to run against McKenzie? We've got to have three men elected to do any good over the two who will stand against us—at least for two years."

"You thought of anybody?" "Old Man Crockett."

Alvin Sykes showed no surprise. He munched on a bite of his sandwich and took a deep sip of milk before he spoke. "That's an idea."

Encouraged, David plunged into an explanation of his reasons for suggesting Crockett.

"Mr. Crockett is the only man in Headleyville who can say whether or not we can give breathing space to the people who are jammed together so thick they can't have even a family secret from their neighbors. He has known all along we had to have his land, but he didn't care any more than the people over here cared about him. And you can't blame him, considering the treatment he's had," he ended slowly.

Mr. Sykes nodded and munched on the second half of his sandwich. "What are the prospects now?" he asked bluntly.

"He'll sell, with certain reservations. That is, he won't sell to just anybody."

"I think I understand," he said, nodding wisely once more.

Mr. Sykes drank the last of his milk and stood up. "Well, let's go over and figure that timber. Got your estimates with you?"

"I've got 'em here," David answered, patting his hip pocket. "If you can go right to work cutting the timber I'll see that a good showing of houses will be going up by election day."

Alvin Sykes smiled and nodded, and they walked on to the lumber mill office where for more than three hours they consulted blueprints and figured costs.

DAVID's head was in a rosy cloud as he walked homeward late in the afternoon. The prospect of a check running into five figures made his step jaunty, and he had a broad grin for his mother when he ran up the steps of his home. He kissed her on the lips and both cheeks, demanding, "Anybody bring you any dresses to make today?"

Penelope Graham laid a half-finished medallion in her lap. "No, David. All I have to do now is crochet pretty things for my grandchildren."

David laughed resoundingly. "You do that, and I'll guarantee they won't go to waste."

When he returned to the porch, he was fresh-shaven and handsome as a bronzed young god, a light suit, Panama hat pulled rakishly over one eye.

"Will you be long?" Penelope asked.

"No. I've got to straighten Madelyn out again."

"Again?" She smiled, her eyes lingering upon him bright with pride.

"Seems like a steady job here lately. Back for dinner."

He had never pried deeply into his feeling for this strange girl whom he had big-brothered since she was a baby and he a boy of six. The bond between them was sacred to him, a bond which had existed since that day he found her in the pine forest lying flat on her stomach, thin dirty legs doubled back, sobbing her heart out with loneliness.

Love had never been mentioned between them. Madelyn belonged to him as naturally as his mother did, and he didn't intend to let her make a fool of herself.

When he reached the Crockett house she was sitting in one of the rickety porch chairs, vivid in a smock sprayed with red and gold and blue flowers. Her hair was smoothed back and her full red lips parted in a smile of welcome.

Gasoline Hike Anticipated In This Area

Motorists stopping at Oil City gasoline stations Tuesday found it cost three cents more for five gallons of fuel, and there were reports in Warren today that a similar hike will be announced here within the next forty-eight hours. Announcement was made yesterday afternoon that Oil City dealers raised retail prices six-tenths of a cent per gallon on all grades, in line with recent wholesale price advances.

The new retail prices are 23.6 cents for high-test gasoline and 21.3 cents for motor gasoline.

At the same time it was announced that the price of kerosene and fuel oil has been increased half-cent a gallon.

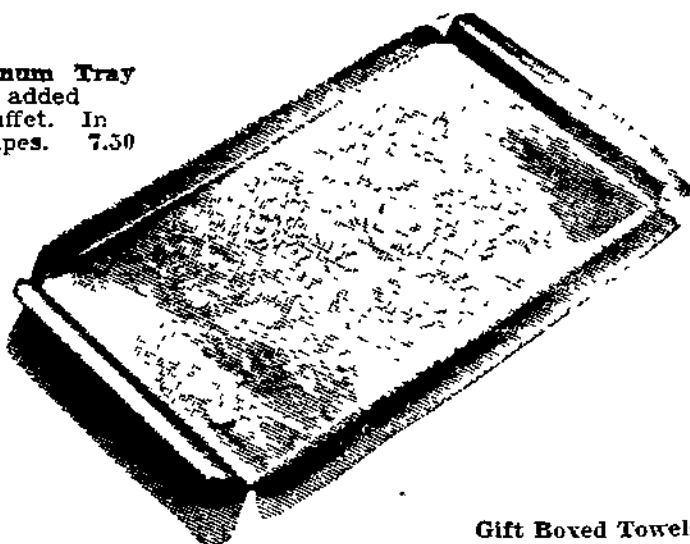

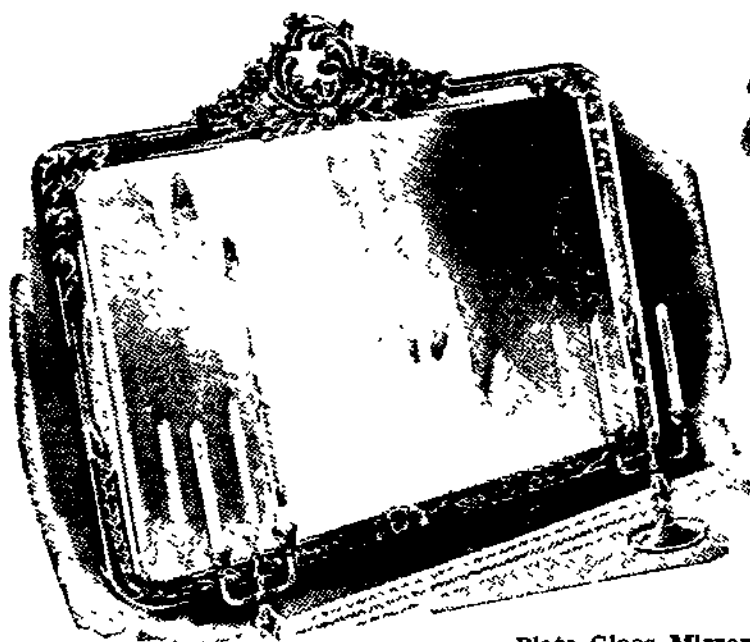

The price increases went into effect Tuesday.

It was pointed out that increases in tank wagon gasoline prices were necessary solely because of the increased cost of crude oil.

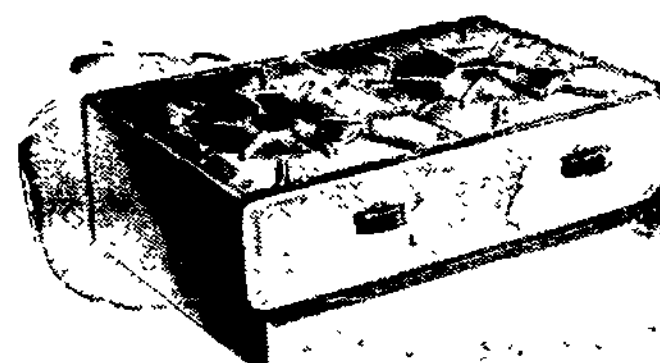

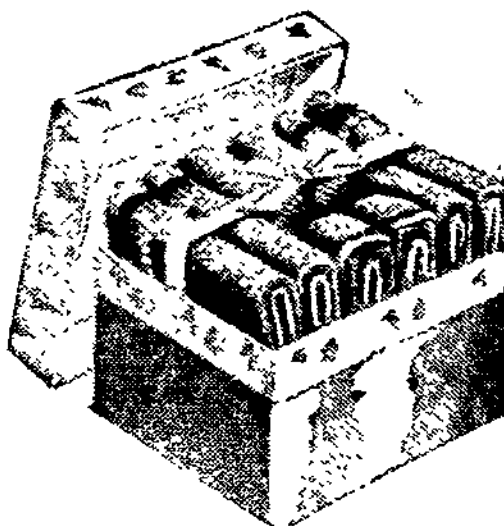

The retail dealers followed with increases of their own in order to maintain the margin between the price of tank wagon fuels and the price at the service stations.

WHILE no exact statistics are available, it is a known fact that Kate has been the top distaff earner in her field. With records and public appearances adding to her radio pay, although her public snowings during the last few years have eschewed play-for-pay while she concentrated on dates at Army camps, Naval stations, hospitals, canteens, etc. Her potency as a radio favorite was generally determined when she appealed to all the Smiths among her listeners to go to blood banks and give a pint. She thereby sent 25,000 owners of the "traditionally popular name to the local Red Cross centers.
